Corporations

Officers who are assumed to have authority to grant power of attorney on behalf of the corporation. These include the President, Treasurer, Vice President, Secretary, CEO, CFO, CIO, or COO. Otherwise, a corporate certification or a letter from one of the assumed officers of the corporation must be provided to prove that the signer has proper authority to grant power of attorney on behalf of the corporation. Alternate proof of the individual's authority to grant power of attorney can be in the form of the company's articles of incorporation, official board minutes, copies of the company charter, etc.

Limited Liability Companies (LLC)

Partners, members, directors and owners may sign a POA, as well as anyone who is listed as a valid signor for corporations, as per above. Any other person signing the power of attorney on behalf of the LLC must provide alternate proof that the signor has authority to grant power of attorney. Alternate proof of the individual's authority to grant power of attorney can be in the form of a letter from an assumed signor attesting to the individual's authority, the LLC's operating agreement, articles of formation, official board minutes, copies of the company charter, etc.

Partnerships and Limited Partnerships (LP)

For General Partnerships, Partners, members, directors and owners may sign a power of attorney. If the signor is not a General Partner, then a second member of the partnership must sign and attest that the first signor has authority to do so. A Partnership also must supply all member names of the partnership per 141.39(a)(1). If the names do not fit on the POA, they must be supplied on a supplemental form.

For Limited Partnerships we must also obtain a copy of the Limited Partnership agreement to confirm the partner listed has specifically been granted authority to bind the partnership. Also, if the signor is not a General Partner, then a second member of the partnership must sign and attest that the first signor has authority to do so.

Finally, if the Partnership, Limited Partnership, or Limited Liability Partnership is Foreign, a second signature is required.

Individuals and Sole Proprietors

It must be the individual or sole proprietor themselves that signs the power of attorney.

Foreign Grantors

All foreign grantors are subject to the same requirements as listed above. In addition, foreign grantors that are not individuals must have a second valid signor complete the non-resident certification. The second signor must also be someone who is assumed to have authority to grant power of attorney, or we will require some proof of their authority as outlined above. In the non-resident certification the second signor attests to the first signors authority to grant power of attorney.

If there is only one signing officer that exists in the company, then that signing officer must complete both the power of attorney and the non-resident certification attesting to his own signing authority. He should also list his regular title followed by "Sole Signing Officer," in each spot that it is required. A Sole signing officer is defined as the only person designated in the articles of incorporation who has the ability to enter into contractual relationships on behalf of the company. If there is more than one officer that has this ability, a second signature is mandatory. Should an officer Sign as sole signing officer and do so erroneously, legal action may occur from U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Sub-Agent Power of Attorneys

A holder of a valid power of attorney can sign and issue a sub-agent power of attorney on behalf of a corporation or partnership. The individual who is issuing and signing the sub-agent power of attorney needs to be someone who is assumed, as per details above, to have authority to grant power of attorney on behalf of the corporation or alternate proof of that authority will be required. Also, the original power of attorney granted to the issuer of the sub-agent power of attorney must grant them authority to issue sub-agent powers of attorney. Usually the language reads similar to, "Authorize other Customs Brokers duly licensed...".
